With youth shooting sports becoming one of the fastest growing sports in the United States, North Caddo Shooting Club has developed a program to help those participants earn scholarship money based on their shooting skills. Scholarship money will be offered in archery, rifle, and shotgun events with money being distributed to ALL age groups. Scholarship money earned through the YSSP program can be used for any higher education or for any life skill that will help a young person become a contributing member of society, such as HVAC, welding school, or apprenticeship programs. The YSSP is open to youth participants from any state, as long as they meet the age requirements. For more information, please contact Casey Hall at the number below or check out our website and Facebook page.
